Leadership and Organizational Development

Vangent helps you to achieve leadership and organizational excellence through a comprehensive range of strategies, tools, and services. These solutions enable you to identify, develop, and retain key talent; make wise organizational development investments; and realize the performance potential of your organization.

Questions we help you answer:

- ◆ How can we consistently, objectively, and proactively identify and groom our future leadership?
- ◆ How can we get a constructive profile of employee engagement that can translate to actionable improvements?
- ◆ Can we make competency-based prescriptive learning recommendations to close business-critical skill gaps?
- ◆ How can we provide high-value, high impact learning options to executives and managers who don't have a lot of time to devote to learning?
